

Can I trust the staff at mailbox.org

This is an extremely valid question because if you are unable to encrypt everything you send or receive, the operator of your mail server may soon know more about you than your doctor, your lawyer, and your accountant combined. Under About Us, you can find a detailed personal description of us as well as information about our history and our reasons for operating mailbox.org. Read this section and think about whether you can – or would like to – place your trust in us. And we ask you to encrypt your communication whenever possible. The fact of the matter is: We at mailbox.org do not even want to be able to read your e-mails.

Related Articles

- How to set up Mailvelope
- Which PGP standards are supported
- Is there going to be transport encryption for my e-mail
- Can I trust the staff at mailbox.org
- Features of our Jabber server